

Brian Kohatsu

Born and raised in Glendale, Arizona, one would think that Brian would have a dry sense of humor...but seriously folks, it's Arizona, he's just trying not to be deported.

Having spent 20 years as an award-winning director, Brian stepped away from the camera to begin his career in comedy. He quickly found success in radio as the host of The BS Factor with Brian and Stephanie on the All Comedy Radio network. Brian gained national recognition when many of his sketches were featured on National Lampoon Radio on XM/Sirius.

Brian trained with several improv troupes, before transitioning to stand up. He now performs at various comedy clubs, churches and corporate events around the country.

Brian's impressions, knowledge of pop culture and unique delivery style have made him an audience favorite. It doesn't matter what he's talking about, Brian puts a smile on everybody's face!